2010 HIGHER SCHOOL CERTIFICATE EXAMINATION Biology

Section I – Part B (continued)

Question 25 (5 marks)

(a) Justify your choice of equipment or resources to perform a first-hand investigation to draw a longitudinal section of xylem tissue.

In order to observe pylem tissere you must have a scaple to at the longitudinal section and a microscope to accurately a closely observe the tissue. However the microscope must be used correctly with slider set up in the right way and care must be taken when wing the scape as its charped and care must be taken when wing the scape as its charped and care must be taken when wing the scape as its charped and care must be taken when wing the scape as its charped and care must be taken when wing the scape as its charped and content of the scape as its charped and care must be taken when wing the scape as its charped and care must be taken when wing the scape as its charped and content of the scape and the scape as its charped and care must be taken when when we scape as its charped and content of the scape as its charped and content of the scape and the scape as its charped and content of the scape and the scape and the scape are content of the scape are content of the scape and the scape are content of the scape ar

(b) Draw a diagram of a longitudinal section of xylem tissue and label ONE 3 17 daysos characteristic feature.

