

a.) ~~It~~ To maintain a solid base for children rights have come into issue. childrens rights include living in a ~~home~~^{environment} which secure ~~and~~^{safe} This contributes to the well being of the child to allow them to feel protected and safe so there emotional and psychological needs are met. Another right is to provided with food and shelter. This contributes to their physical needs ~~&~~ allowing them to grow.

b.) There are many support services to assist parents and careers. ~~There~~ These include health services, welfare agencies and child care services. ~~child care facilities allow parents~~ ~~&~~ An increasing number of women are going back into the workforce when their child is still young. While some parents have support from relatives, neighbours and so forth many need support from child care services. There is a list of child care facilities that support different needs of the individual parent or career, including ~~etc~~ long day care, morning or afternoon care and so forth. allowing the parent or career to drop them off certain days or times fulfilling ~~there~~ their needs and wants.

c.) Adopting a child is a form of social parenting. Social parenting c.) Social parenting is not a natural form of parenting. Social parents are not the ~~natural~~^{biological} parents of the child. Adoption is a form of social parenting. Adoption is a legal process where by someone is ~~able to~~ granted care of the child. Once the papers and forms have been completed, both the biological parents and ~~adopt~~ ~~see~~ people who are going to adopt the child agree to the legal proceeding ~~the~~ are able to have the child as their own. ^{in cases} Most parents ~~see~~ adopt because they are not able to conceive children themselves so adoption allows the individual to become a parent socially. The social parent is now legally the parent of the child and is able to make decisions and parental acts for the child. The legal proceeding does not allow the ~~parent~~ biological parent to have information on who is adopting the child. The secrecy and confidentiality allows the social parent to be the carer for the child and therefore it is ~~there~~ the social parents decision whether to tell the child about their natural parents in later years.

~~The style of parenting they take up on the child can be useful~~

~~The important factors that lead to ~~so~~ becoming a social parent ~~is~~ the basis in~~

Becoming a social parent takes time and years before the process can actually be completed. ~~This allows~~ ~~the~~ social parents must ~~be~~ have patience when faced with this issue or think of another plan of action to deal with the waiting.

relatives and intermediate family ~~is~~ may not agree with this option and may be faced with problems.

Social parenting can be a hard decision to make but it is important to make the right choice. There is many factors that need to be taken into consideration when deciding with this parent and caring relationship.