

In the prescribed poems such as "The Streets of Laredo", "Ballad" and "Song" etc ---, they are all different to the general poems,

These poems are telling a story even they are a poem. Therefore, the techniques of the poems are different to the general poems.

One of the poems which is called "Ballad", it is a narrative, ~~use~~ Use of technique in the poem is, there are ~~con~~structure, plot, setting and character in the poem. The ~~etc~~ characters in Ballad are a nymph and a knight,

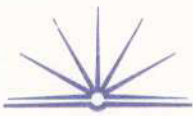

~~se~~ The setting is the river rim near the cliff. ~~The~~ The ~~con~~structure is like a story imitated a poem. For example, ~~some~~ there are some stanzas and each parts of the stanzas are not very long. Can be expressed it as ~~half~~ "half poem and half story",

For the plot, the words used in ordered,

It is the how "Ballad" has been used in the poem.

Second one which is called "The Streets of Lardeo", it is also a narrative.

But this poem is more ~~than~~ like a poem ~~the~~ than "Ballad". In "The streets of Lardeo", ~~there~~ the reader is an one of character and ~~the~~ a main character in the poem is a character who is a dying cowboy.

It is interested that this poem begins with a sentences of a reader. The setting has portaid first at the begining, then the reader is the one of character who spied a dying cowboy. In a second stanza of this poem the dying cowboy tells his fate to the reader.

~~The dying cowboy tells how he started~~

And after his story ~~he~~ he dies finally and the reader comes ~~as~~ again and tells the cowboy's death for the end of this poem.

In the third poem which is called "Song", it is hard to read as there is a special technique, that is an expression which has no object or a body ~~is~~ becomes a reader which is a ~~the~~ character in this poem. This technique is called personification. This ~~character~~ character becomes a human which has no body ~~and~~ and this character is one of a reader of this poem. This character always hides at the back of real human and tells how ~~the~~ ~~death~~ ~~is~~ ~~sad~~ ~~and~~ the character likes to take human's ~~life~~ lives.

We ~~find~~ <sup>found</sup> how many different elements of narrative are used in poems.

There are lots of ways to express audiences in poems.
