

Question 4.

Have you heard about "Working smart not harder"? Good morning year 11. I have experienced over and over again that last minute cramming doesn't work. Effective study in the HSC needs lots of organisations. Setting goals, positive thinking, research skill and note taking are fundamental skills that what smart students like you should do. ~~Effective~~ Study effectively in the HSC ~~made~~ make you get the best marks in the HSC.

Setting goals are really important in your life. Without setting goals your life will be worthless. You can set up goals as you like but you need determination in order ~~to~~ to achieve. ~~Setting~~ You have to set realistic goals. Your own set of goal could be achieve if you are honest with yourself, ~~prioritising~~ prioritising your goals and work on the most important things is crucial.

"I know I will fail" are self destructive it reduces your chance of achieving in the HSC. Positive thinking are useful and can boost your confident. Positive thinking "I can do it." will certainly ~~not~~ make you feel good. With positive thinking your view of the HSC will be different. If you are positive thinkers you may enjoy your study during the HSC. Most importantly, Positive thinking makes you doesn't judge people easily and you have high self esteem and objective thinking.

Have you ever been to the libraries and you ~~didn't~~ didn't find any information? If yes, you had better listen to this. Research skills can be apply in ~~our~~ your normal everyday life. Research skill can be used when you ^{are} searching for news in the newspaper. Research skills are really ~~useful~~ useful for the HSC. Research skills can be applied when you do your assignments or your essays. Sometimes information can be obtained easily from libraries, the Internet and government agency. But remember, ~~the~~ libraries sometimes can be quite useful ^{Libraries have more} information in certain areas ~~more~~ than the Internet. ^{Good} Research skills will help you to get the best HSC achievement

PTO.

I know you are good at writing notes! Note taking is crucial in the HSC. ~~Note taking are a~~ Notes are useful for study before the exam. ~~Every~~ Notes are usually personal and each individual have different style of writing. This just some of the examples. First, Outlining is a key. It demonstrates that you ~~are~~ recognise the main ideas. Second, signal words are used to help you remember this can include visual images or diagrams. Third, list all the concepts that are straight forward. Lastly, ~~is~~ streamlining which is basically ~~is~~ using some abbreviations. This note-taking skills will help you in your study in the HSC next year.

~~So~~ So, fundamental skills such as setting goals, positive thinking, research skill and note taking are extremely important in your study in the HSC. These skills ~~can~~ apply ~~in~~ even in ~~the~~ your entire life. These skills will help you to get the best marks ~~in the HSC~~ in the HSC. Good luck! 🍀