

Start here for
 Question Number: 23

(a) What has been introduced is checks called a check list. You have to undergo the check list before anything to insure the data is correct.

(B) Because they are trying to reduce it as much as possible that's why they have popped it into place.

House hold total	transport total	my foot print.

(D) what needs to be done in order for the carbon foot print to actually be accurate is they need to know how much electricity your house is consuming, good ways to reduce your foot print is solar electricity, hot water also rain water tank.