

2001 HIGHER SCHOOL CERTIFICATE EXAMINATION
Modern History

Section I (continued)

Question 2 (10 marks)

Use Sources A and B and your own knowledge.

How successful were the Allies and the Germans in using technology to break the stalemate on the Western Front?

Looking at Source A the use of telescopes and rifles gives us an indication that the Allies & Germans were successful to break the stalemate on the Western Front because of technology as without these items you'd have a less chance of defending yourself.

The telescope would be an extremely handy device to have as obviously it allows you to see on coming enemys and having the rifle allows you to shoot at the enemy whilst looking ~~at~~ through the telescope instead of those hand held weapons which you have a more chance of dying as you have to get heaps close to your enemies.

Source B - the tank was a handy bit of technology to have as it could go over any forms of ground and it can run over things in seconds, it also has a canon to firer ~~at~~ bullets at the enemy's and with a number of these all together could run ~~down~~ down a whole village.

Question 2 continues on page 4

Question 2 (continued)

End of Question 2