Modern History

Section I (continued)

Question 3 (10 marks)

Assess how useful Sources C and D would be for an historian studying the Allies' approaches to Germany at the Paris Peace Conference.

In your answer, consider the perspectives provided by the two sources, and their reliability.

Both sources are not useful sources for an historian studying the Allies' approaches to Germany at the Paris Peace Conference.

In Source C it is the perspective of the United States government and it shows how it felt of the German government.

Source D only shows us what the allies wanted to here and not how the German people felt towards the agreement reached.

In Source C it practically says that Wilson's 14 points will be the one inflicted on Germany.

Both of these sources don't show us what happened after the agreement was reached and also
