

Question 26

(a) The coach can look at things like, how well the skill was performed, how many times the skill took to learn, the consistency of the skill, the intensity of the skill and difficulty of the skill.

All this can be put together to evaluate the effectiveness of the skill instruction element of a training session.