

a) The coach could see if his/her skill instruction element was effective by the way the skill is used in the game and how the players execute the skill.

eg if you've been practising a short corner in hockey all training session and it doesn't score you a goal ~~at~~ sure you would think what a waste of time. But if it score you a goal all the players do the right thing and executed the skill with beautiful timing a speed the coach would be impressed.
