

Start here.

~~Belonging to a belief system in society can provide many things. It can give a sense of security through believing that you're a better person, providing an answer to what?~~

~~There are varying reasons as to why the concepts of ideology and belief are relevant to society. However~~

~~By~~ Maintaining existing inequalities within the society of Australia, will almost certainly create negative impacts not just within our culture and ~~but~~ identity but also within certain aspects of our society such as the workplace or even those in our society of a different ethnicity, ~~and~~ sexual gender or sexual preference (i.e. gay or lesbian).

As we have seen within our society even today, issues such as women in the workplace, same sex marriages or couples and racism toward ethnic groups are still a prominent and overwhelming problems that our society, ~~as a~~ ~~whole~~ ~~but~~ ~~concern~~ have either succumbed too or tried to prevent.

These ~~complex~~ problems can impact upon the many varying aspects of our society that we as a country depend upon for a source of income and to provide a favourable image and identity within not just our society but the world as well.

One particular negative would be the impact upon our tourism industry which thrives on outside migrants and tourists coming to our country for leisure, business and/or study. Now if the inequalities still exist.

Additional writing space on back page.