Q2 - Christianity

Hildegard of Bingen was a very significant person in Christianity and contributed greatly to the religion.

Hildegard was born in 1098, the tenth in a large line of siblings. Hildegard became a nun at the age of 15 and later became a scholar.

Not only contributing to Christianity but also to women of all races and religions over the Earth, Hildegard made a bigger name for women, assisting in giving them a say in society and lifting their status to give them equality with the dominant men.

Hildegard had visions. Some of these visions she put down into paintings and artwork. Also, Hildegard wrote alot of poetry, songs, and stories.

Many people saw Hildegard of Bingen to be one with power in Christianity. ~~They are able too~~ She once said "When I was 42... a blinding light... flowed through my brain."

Many women looked up to Hildegard as a role model and her work has not been forgotten as it continues to be viewed and admired. Today, women have equal rights with men helped immensely by the contribution of Hildegard of Bingen.
