

Throughout Christianity the white dove is strongly recognised both in today's society and throughout the Bible, as a peace symbol.

The dove is white, which symbolises purity and the divine nature of God and Jesus and it is released as an offering to God which takes the dove closer to heaven. In the Bible, Jesus offers his life in order to retain peace, and due to his purity the dove is a symbol of him and his sacrifice.

The releasing of a dove at a wedding ceremony or at a funeral, symbolise that life will go on in its purest form and be accepted by God as a ~~give~~ gift. ~~The~~
