

question 3

- a) i) The conspiracy of Catiline to destroy the state.
- ii) This has been an emergency meeting where the senate was called together to discuss the impending ^{danger} ~~threat~~ of Catiline's conspiracy.
- iii) In ancient Rome, members of the public would gather around outside the homes of the high class citizens in this case Cicero, and they would greet ~~the~~ him and then he would proceed to throw money into the crowd.
- iv) Cicero believes that if Catiline is killed, the rest of his band of conspirators will remain in the state as a danger to the safety of all citizens. However, if Catiline leaves the city, he will take all of his friends and conspirators out with him, thus removing the danger of Cataline and his plans for the destruction of the state.