

Start here.

a) it is the case that the more willing man with strength arranges the trial of the plantation, this noble descendant was ~~searched~~ <sup>attacked</sup> in the exercise ground,

2) It is the case that the more willing man with strength arranges the trial of the plantation, <sup>let</sup> this noble candidate descend in the exercise ground, this <sup>he contended</sup> by death and famous pain, that crowd of clients a majority:

The land law decides the fate of distinguished and lowest necessity, all names he moves large vessels.

b) 'generosior' "viro vir latius" "latius arbusta"

i) 'latius...arbusta'

ii) He uses diction such as 'insignis, imis, generosior, petitor,' to describe the status of the different people such as power or distinguished. That no matter what class you are your name will end up on a container full of your ashes when you die by accident or pain, "omne ... nomen"

Additional writing space on back page.