

Start here.

A) ~~Environmental~~ Environmental Protection agency or EPA and OHS Both play parts in ensuring that businesses comply with the environmental protection regulations because both have different areas they want to protect. Epa protects the environment and pollution, while OHS ensures safety of workers and people alike which means keeping harmful chemicals away from the environment. These businesses have the responsibility to keep businesses in regulation therefore protecting the values.